

Sales guide

Your workflow runs Lead → Deal → Quotation → Invoice. Here's how each step works in the CRM.

Your dashboard

When you log in you'll see:

- Follow-ups due — leads you need to chase today.
- Won this month — value of deals you've closed.
- Open pipeline by stage — your live deals and their value.

1. Leads (Lead Generation)

1. Lead Generation → Add Lead.
 2. Fill in name, company, phone/email, source, the service they're interested in, and an estimated value. Assign an owner (usually you).
1. Save. (If AI is enabled, a score badge appears suggesting how promising the lead looks.)

Working a lead:

- Open the lead to add notes, see the timeline, and log activity.
- Log a call (top bar or the lead page) after you phone them — record the outcome (connected, no answer, follow-up needed).
- Set a next follow-up date so it shows up in your "follow-ups due".
- If AI is enabled, Draft follow-up writes a first-draft message you can edit before sending.

Converting a lead: when it's real business, open the lead and click Convert. This creates a Client and a Deal automatically and links everything together.

2. Pipeline (Sales Department)

The Sales Department board shows your deals in columns by stage:

New → Contacted → Proposal → Negotiation → Won / Lost.

- Drag a deal to the next column as it progresses (or open it and change the stage).
- Won and Lost are final — once set, a deal stays there.
- A won deal can become a Project for the delivery team.

3. Quotations

1. Quotations → Create.
2. Pick the client/deal, add line items (description, HSN/SAC, quantity, rate). GST is calculated per line (CGST+SGST for Maharashtra clients, IGST otherwise).

1. For milestone/project work, add milestones (e.g. advance on signing, balance on delivery).

1. Save, then download the PDF to send to the client.

2. When the client agrees, mark the quotation Accepted, then Convert to invoice — accounts takes it from there.

4. Clients

Clients lists all companies. Open one to see its contacts, notes, calls, deals, invoices and tickets in one place. New clients can also be added directly, or imported in bulk via Clients → Import.

Tips

- Use the search bar to jump straight to any lead, client or deal.
- Keep notes and call outcomes up to date — they drive your follow-up list and your performance report.
